

HORM

presents

MASS PRESSURE

by Dror, 2021

We have created
a mass pressure
on the natural
world, natural resources and
man kind.

Acknowledgement
is the starting point
of change.

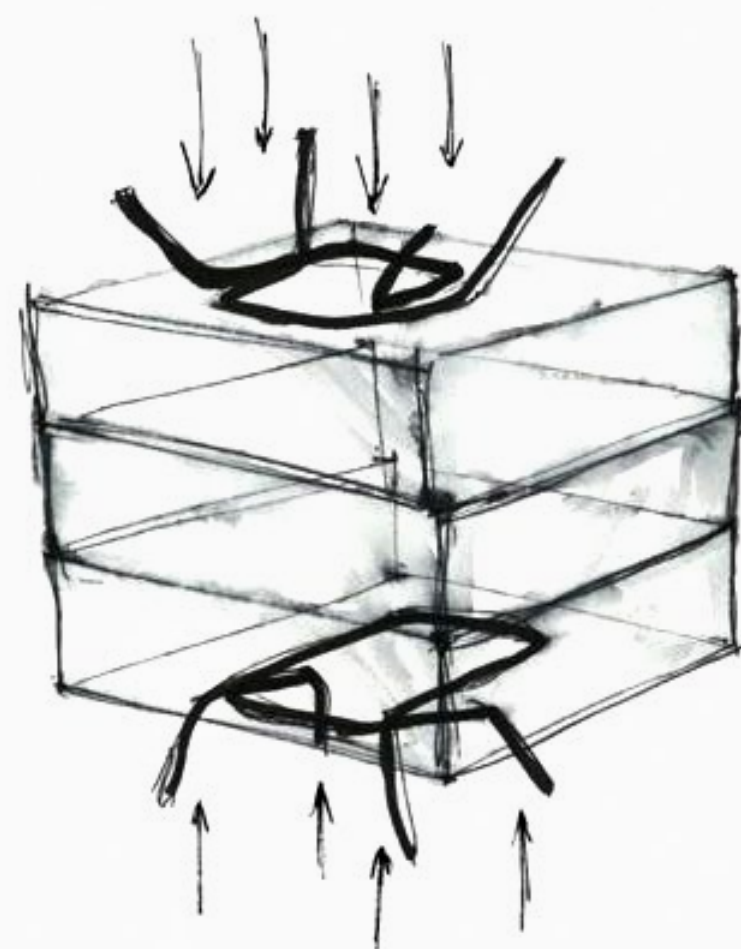

Each Mass
Pressure is an original and
unique piece
of art.

DESIGNER

Dror Benshetrit is an artist, designer and inventor based in New York. He creates unexpected ideas and designs humanistic products, environments and architecture. Long involved in improving people's well-being, his current mission is to protect our planet.

TECH INFO

The structure, made of tubular metal, is composed of two separate elements that compress a monoblock of polyurethane foam cut into three elements. The three polyurethane foam elements and the metal structure, are impregnated with an elastic resin and then hand-painted with Novacolor® finishes, making the surface materic and three-dimensional.

