CITRON

As an urban citizen, being out of touch with one's natural environment, society, and social landscape is not a phenomenon unheard of. The concrete jungles of cities often rob one of vibrancy and organic rhythm.

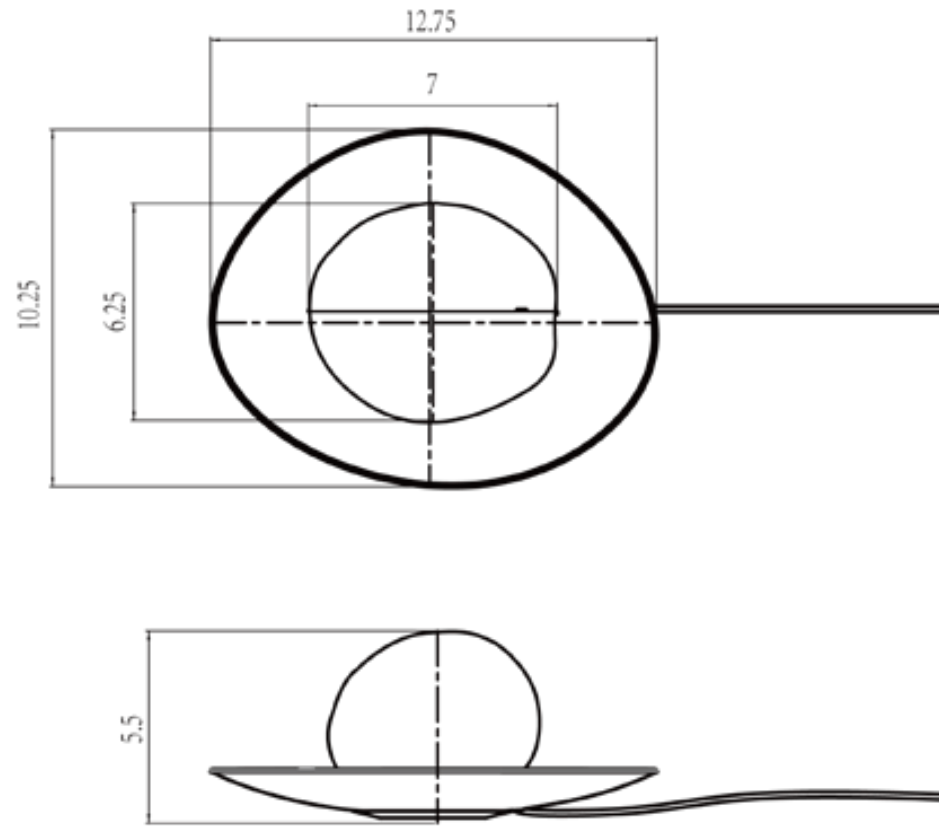

'Citron' – a mood lamp is specifically designed to help revive that earthy vitality.

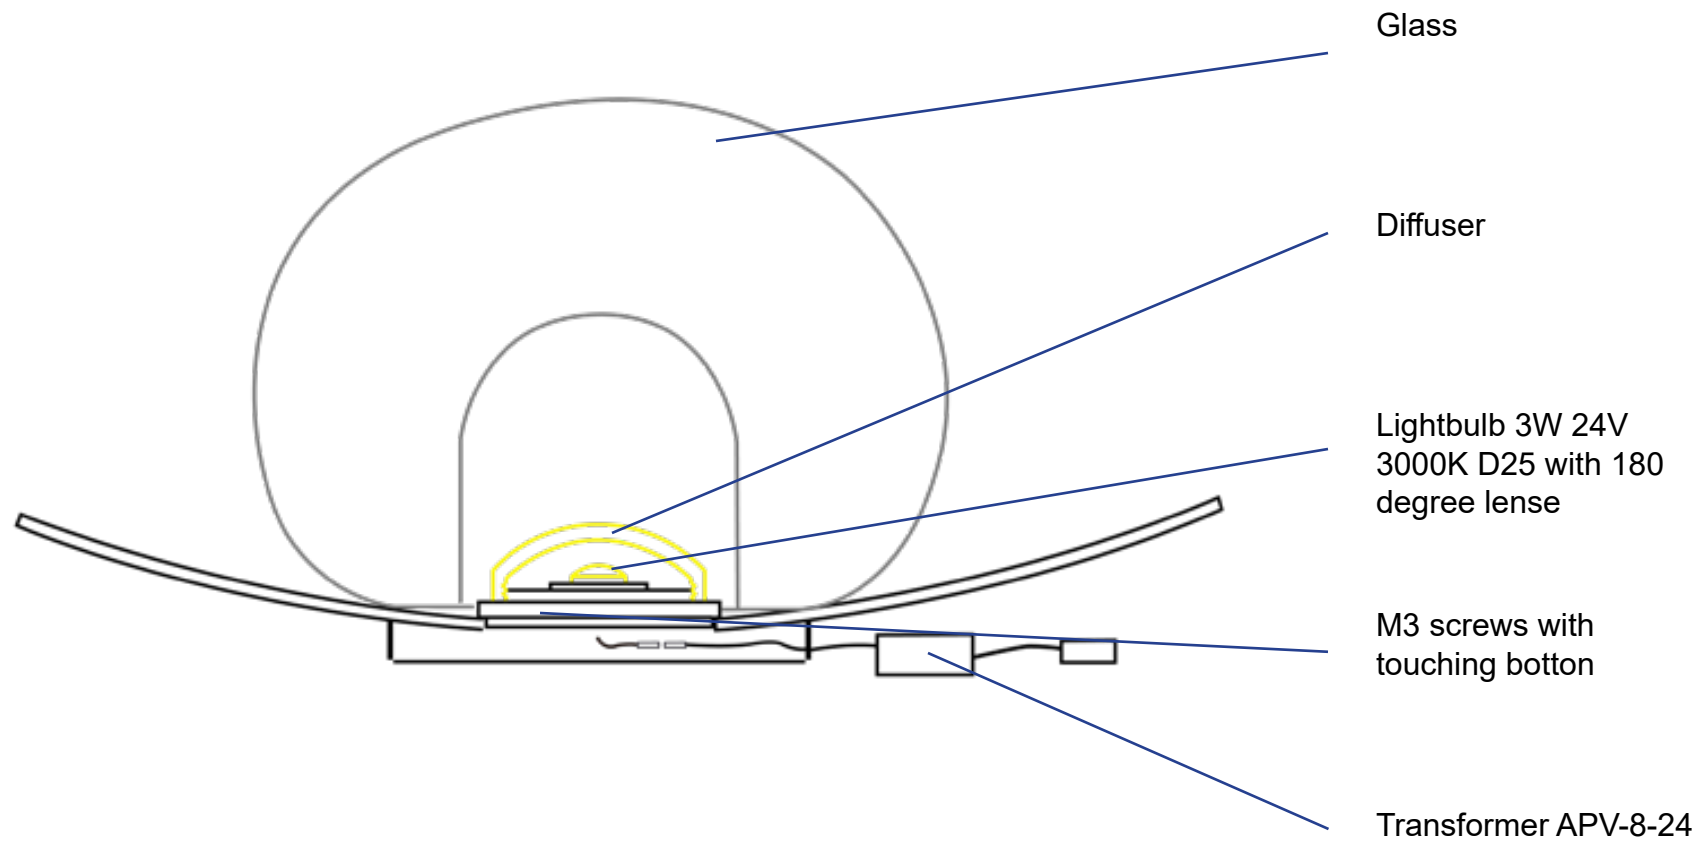

Citron levitates serene undertones of nature, like plump fruits falling artfully from trees– by visualizing their motions and sounds. Inspired by natural elements– Citron uses durable artificial, processed metal to paint the abstraction in urban hues. The curved metal plate refracts the forested lampshade; the deformed shadow mimics the melody of fruits diving into the ground, and the glass lampshade sculpted with fine muscular lines represents precious imperfections of nature.

I extend a hearty thanks to my professor, David Mocarski.
And to all the glass craftsmanship vendors, the lighting engineers, the metal fabricators– without whose help and support, the project wouldn't have been completed during the pandemic.

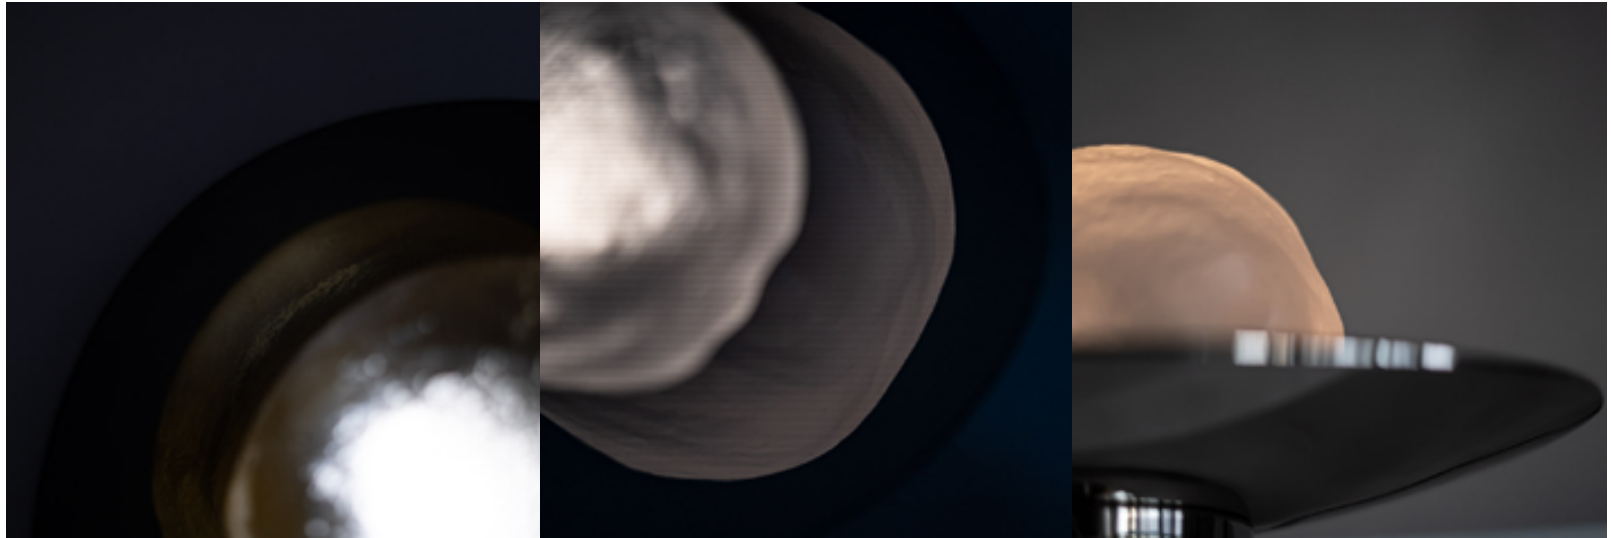

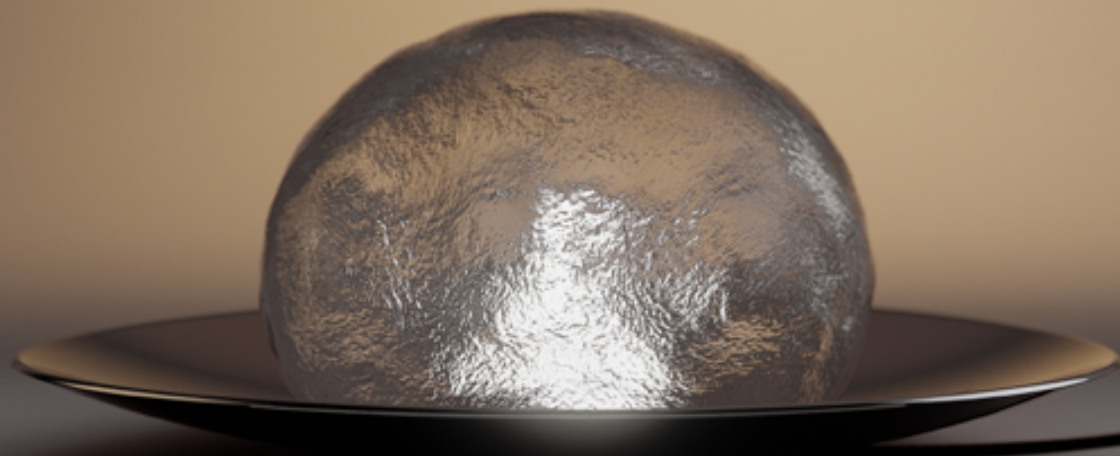

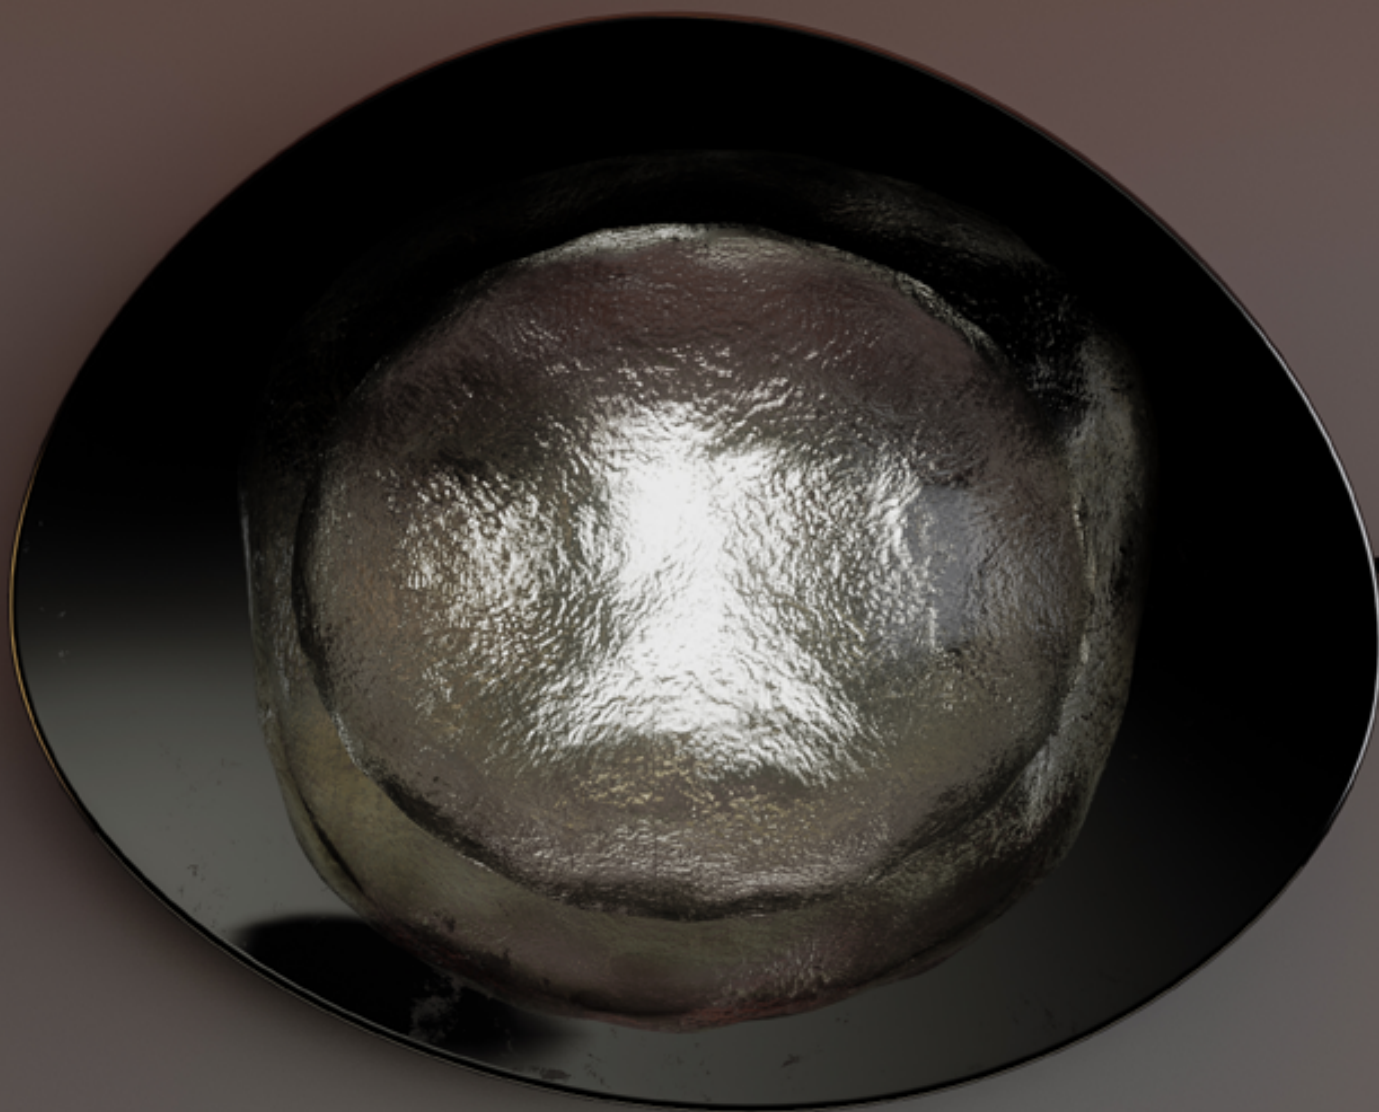

Thank you
