

MODEL IV: "DISRUPTION"

This bangle was inspired by the idea of disruption, which is linked to the concept of rebirth and renewal. The gemstone (a blue topaz), metaphorically representing the human being, is trying to emerge from the old, and escape from the limiting and suffocating beliefs in which we are still trapped, consciously or unconsciously.

During the disruption process, the old world is broken, and yet something beautiful comes into the world.

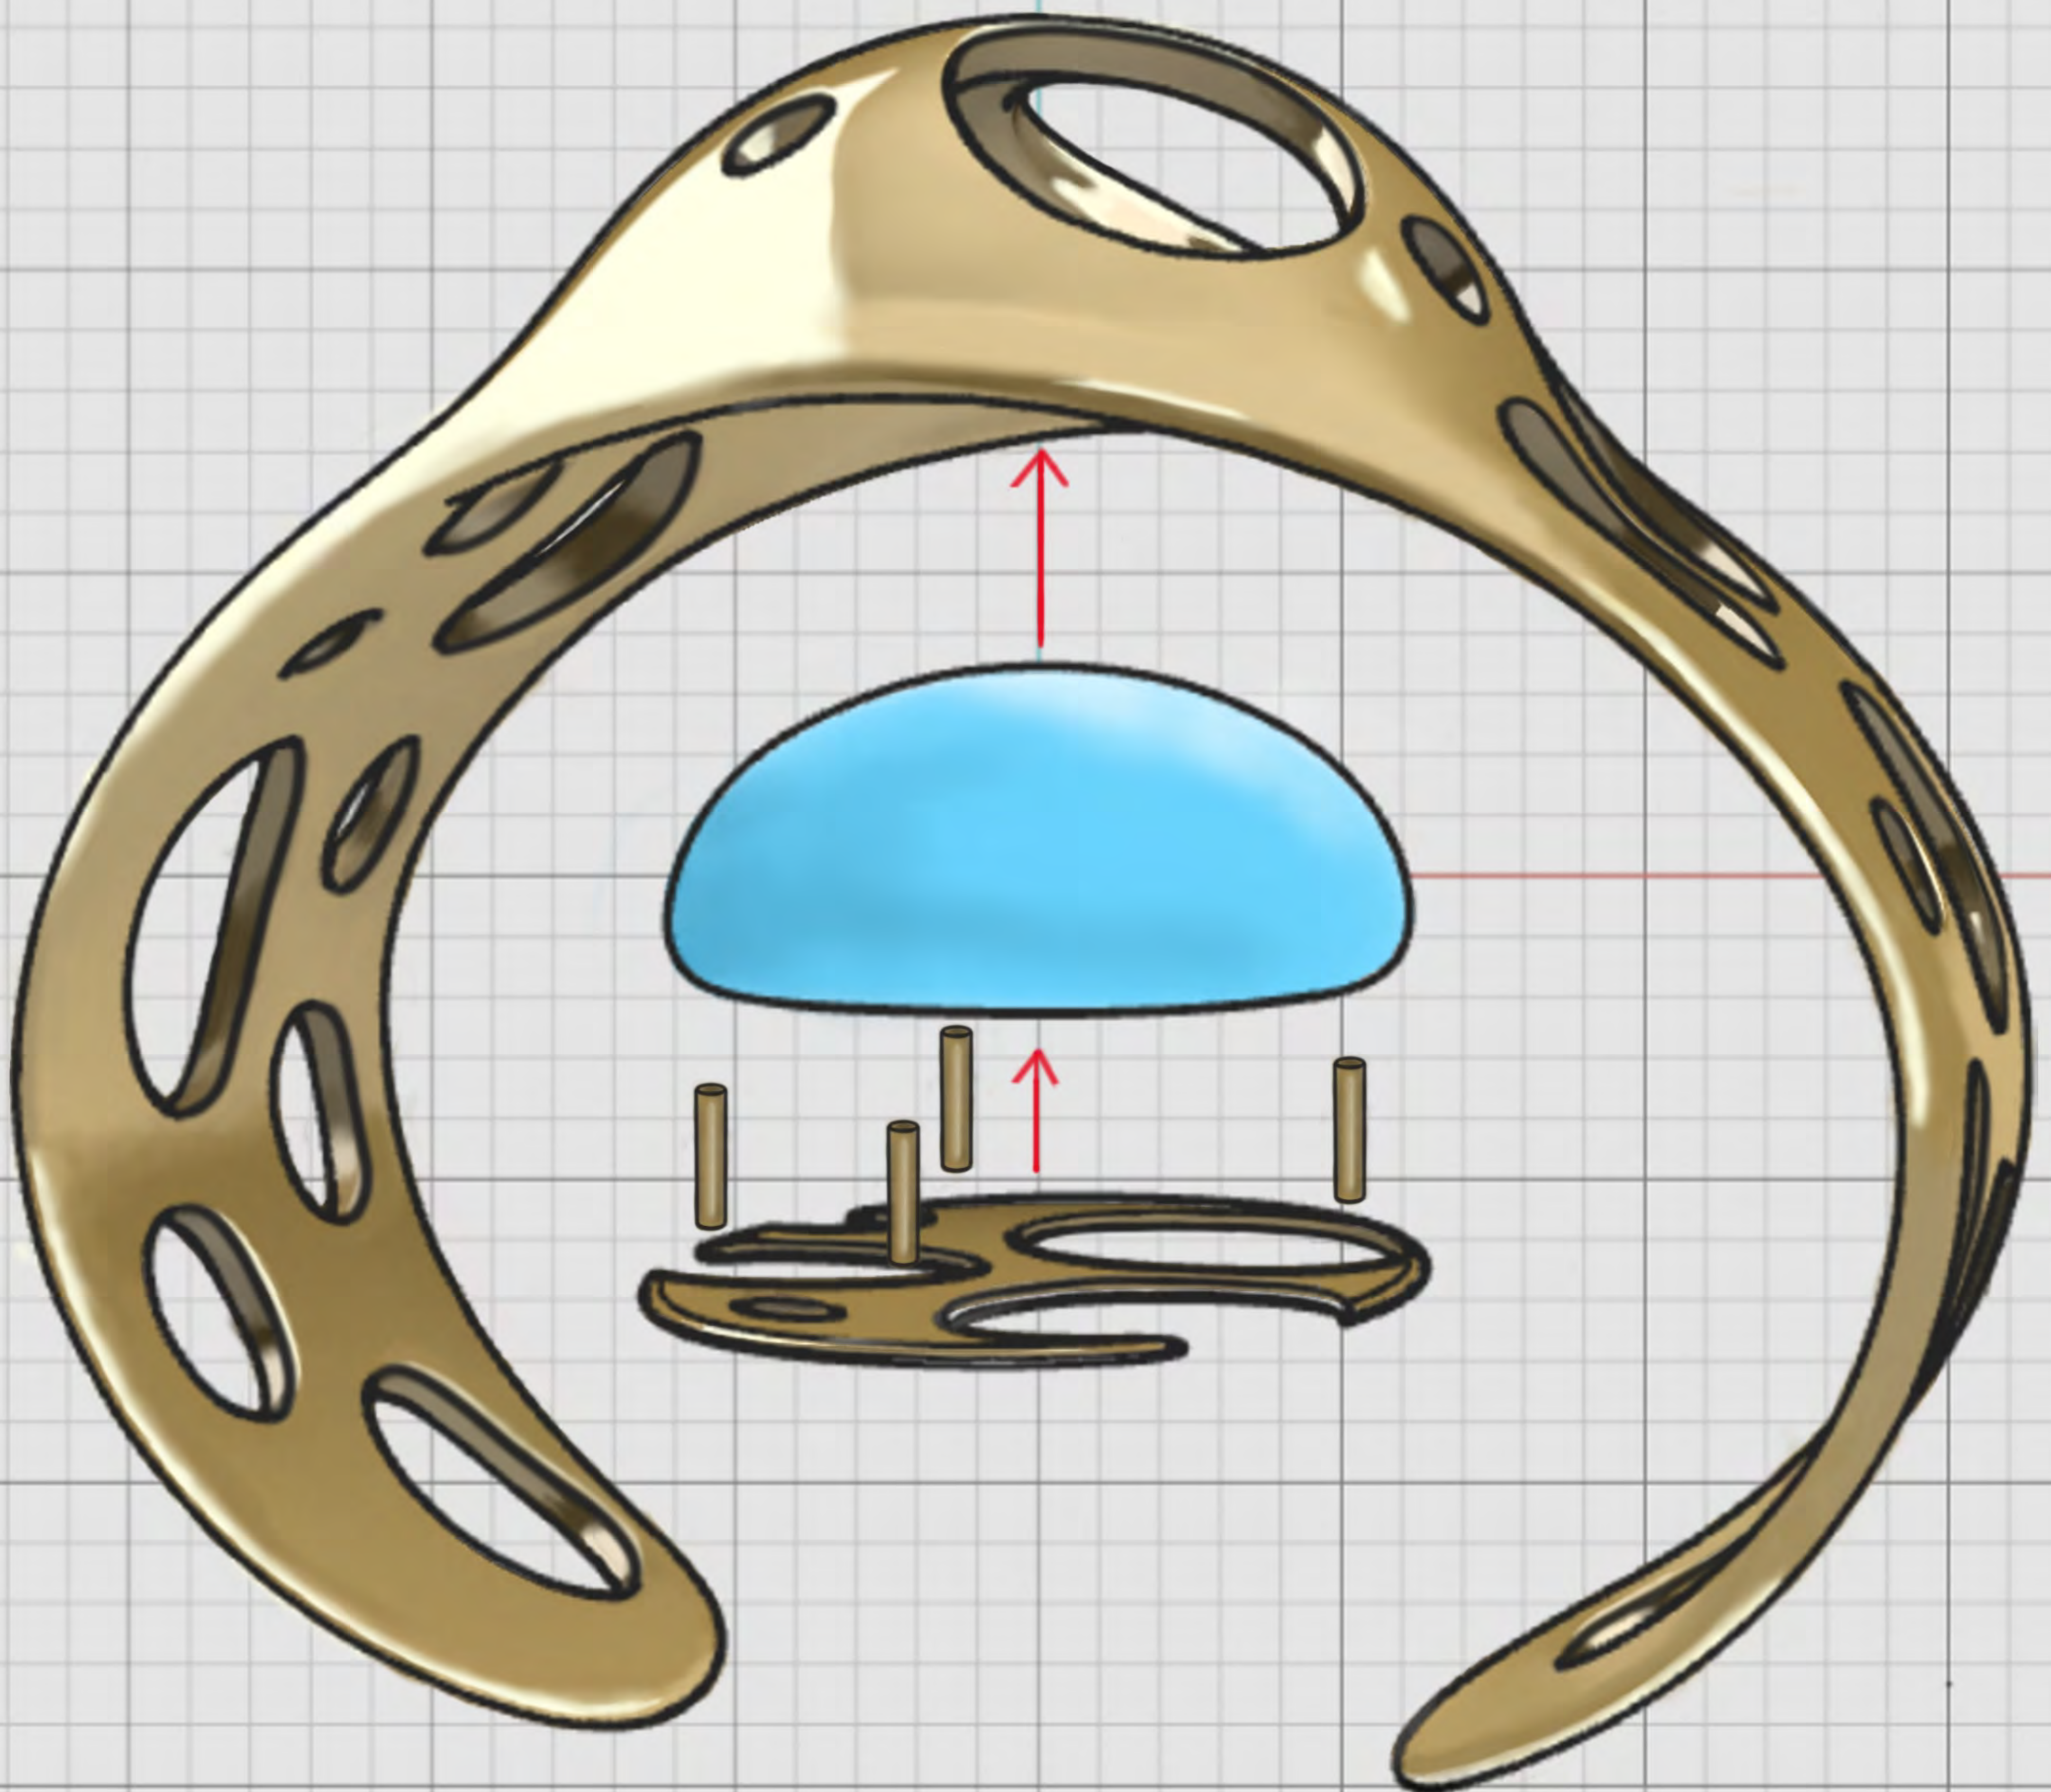

Right here and now, you can see it happening. "Model IV: Disruption" is a still image that captures the climax of what is happening.
