

ESPERTO

Our smallest grill features all the same high-quality parts and adjustable fire pit as its bigger brothers in a more compact form, so you can take advantage of open fire cooking even if you have limited space on your patio or rooftop.

ABOUT THE PRODUCT

DESIGN

Functionality, space-saving design and high-end materials. What else is there to ask for? We matched compact design with the largest possible grilling area that provides the same outstanding cooking experience as our larger grills.

INSPIRATION

We wanted to make sure that the smallest of the bunch also lives up to the highest expectations. Its minimalist design is as mesmerizing as the fire that brings it to life.

By adjusting the height of the inner fire chamber, you can fine-tune the temperature of the grill's cooktop. The cooktop's temperature also slightly varies between the inner and outer parts, so you can control the speed of cooking by placing food at the appropriate area.

The double wall construction of the grill ensures that the outer walls are much cooler than the walls of the fire chamber. This makes our grills safer and easier to stand near.

TECHNOLOGY

Built from precision milled stainless steel and brass parts down to the last bolt guarantees outstanding grilling performance and extreme durability. Self-healing properties of stainless steel ensure that our grills will likely outlast anything else you own. Easy clean and hygienic surfaces will make your grilling experience sweat-free and safe.

The legs of the tripod base can be individually adjusted up to an inch (2,5 cm) to provide excellent stability on uneven surfaces. The overall weight and low center of gravity ensures that your grill remains completely steady under all circumstances. Each Vilicci grill features an easily adjustable fire pit that allows you to comfortably match the intensity of heat to any food you are making.
